

Jason Kulp served in the U.S. Marine Corps from 1992-1996, then put himself through college on the G.I. Bill at The Ohio State University from 1996-2008, earning a degree in Political Science. Upon graduation, Jason was hired as a police officer for The Upper Arlington Police Division in Columbus, Ohio, where he earned multiple awards for his service, and was ultimately promoted to the rank of Sergeant. Jason has always been interested in politics, but became passionate about it once Donald Trump announced his campaign in 2016. Jason moved his family to Palm Beach County in 2021, and joined the REC shortly after. Jason has been involved with the party, volunteering for multiple campaigns and helping with election operations in the most recent election. Jason also ran for State Committeeman in 2024. Jason believes government spending and intrusion on people's rights must be drastically reduced, and he is excited to help grow the party and get Republicans elected.
